DON'T CROWD, MEN

Elderly California Woman Asks the Assistance of Mayor Lee In Securing a Bluegrass Husband.

It would seem that Mayor Lee is trying to run a matrimonial bureau, but it is not so—he is simply the man to whom women fly to when in distress. Yesterday he received a letter from an elderly California woman who is looking for a husband, and it is now up to some of the old bachelors who say they never had a chance. The writer asks the mayor to keep her name out of the papers, thus showing that she is a most decent woman, which is one good point in her favor. The mayor will be glad, however, to furnish her name to any one wishing to get in communication with her.

The letter follows:

Mayor of Maysville, Ky.:

Dear Sir—I want a husband and ask you to help me find one.

I am an elderly lady. My children all married. I am a good cook and housekeeper, saving cheerful. The man must be 60 or 65 years old or even older, if healthy and strong. He must have no one depending on him. He must have enough of this world's goods to keep two. Not drink to excess, mechanic or farmer. He must be goodnatured and pleasant.

I was born in the Bluegrass country and want one from "The Same Old Home."

Please do not put my name in the papers. I want you to see that the person is good reliable person if so you may give him my name and address.

If you do not want to be bothered just return these writings to me. Orlidge.

BEAUTIFUL COUNTRY CLUB

To Be Built In Maysville's New Suburb and Will Be Known As the "Edgemont Country Club"—Plus Now Being Drawn By Cincinnati Architect.

A beautiful country club house to be known as the "Edgemont Country Club" will be erected soon by a company composed of local gentlemen in Maysville's new suburb on the old Newgate farm on the Lexington pike. A Cincinnati architect is now drawing the plans and the contracts will be let soon.

When completed, this building will be one of the most beautiful ever built in this section of the country. It will be built on the brow of the hill and will give the occupants a fine view of Maysville.

The building will be built with all modern conveniences and will be up-to-date in every particular.

MRS. JENNIE OSBORNE RECOVERING.

DEATH CALLS TWO AGED CITIZENS.

(Flemington Times-Democrat.) Died, Thursday eve, January 14, Uncle William Sapp, aged 83 years. Buried at Olive Branch Saturday. VETERAN OF THE WAR AND THE PEN.

(Dover News.) We notice in the Maysville papers that on last Sunday Colonel Thomas A. Davis, veteran editor, celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday. His life has been a busy and useful life, and may that big heart of his beat on for many more years yet, for the world can not have too many of his kind. Although his health has been bad for several years, we hope to have the pleasure of noting the recurrence of the eighty-fifth and the ninety-fifth anniversaries and then some.

REVIVING THE LYNCHING INDUSTRY.

Along with the announcement of a decline in the number of lynchings in 1914 comes the news that a Georgia community has hanged four negroes at one fell swoop, thus giving the 1915 record a booming send-off.

Monticello, Ga., is the place which has done it—self the honor of staging a quadruple lynching. If there should be a continued decline in that form of lawlessness this year it will not be chargeable to Monticello, which has done its best to keep up the south's inenviable reputation in that line.

According to the reports of the affair, two negro men and two negro women were "taken from jail and hanged, their bodies riddled with bullets." These negroes, presumably, were undesirable citizens. They had not killed anybody, although they had engaged in a fight with some of the municipal peace officers in which a policeman had been slightly wounded. Their conduct, of course, was reprehensible, but their offense was not such as to call for an outbreak of violence. Justice probably would have been appealed had they been tried in court by the imposition of a fine or a short term in jail or both.

It seems almost incredible that four persons should have been lynched as the outcome of a mere street row in which no one appears to have been seriously injured. Monticello has made a record for countless bloodshed that will be hard to live down.—Courier-Journal.

HENS AND ARTILLERY.

A captain of the London Rifle Brigade who has noticed that hens in Old Flanders lay freely during an artillery bombardment, writes home to say that after the war he will "try running a poultry farm on the explosive system." He must be unfamiliar with the industry. It can not stand any more expense. Already the cost of hygienic quarters for the fowls and the monthly feed bill make the raising of chickens and the production of strictly fresh eggs a luxury.—New York Sun.

THE WHOLESALE MURDER HAS NOT STARTED.

Man's Life To Himself.

"Stood your ground, did you?"

"No, sah, I runns."

"Why, that's not very creditable to your courage."

"Dat isn't in my line, sah—cookin's my profession."

"Do you consider your life worth more than other people's?"

"It's worth more to me, sah."

"But why should you set upon a different rule from other men?"

"Because different men set different value upon daries—mine's not in de market."

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Maysville Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment; the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Don's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Maysville woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. Dora Moford, Maysville, Ky., says: "I had been feeling poorly for some time, before I knew that my kidneys were at fault. I was nervous and dizzy and my back and head ached. I rested poorly and mornings I was all tired out. I read in a local paper how a neighbor had been cured of kidney trouble by Don's Kidney Pills. I used them and before long I was a great deal better. I was able to sleep well and they improved my health."

Price 50¢ at all dealers. Don't simply wait for a kidney remedy—get Don's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Moford had. Foster Milbury Co., Maysville, Ky., Buffalo, N. Y.

RATE INCREASE NECESSARY

FARMERS' UNION OFFICIALS THINK RAILROADS ARE ENTITLED TO MORE REVENUE.

Products of Plow and Farmer Who Lives at Home Should Be Exempt From Increase.

By Peter Radford.
Lecturer National Farmers' Union.

The recent action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in granting an increase in freight rates in the eastern classification of territory; the application of the roads to state and interstate commissions for an increase in rates, and the utterances of President Wilson on the subject bring the farmers of this nation face to face with the problem of an increase in freight rates. It is the policy of the Farmers' Union to meet the issues affecting the welfare of the farmers squarely and we will do so in this instance.

The transportation facilities of the United States are inadequate to effectively meet the demands of commerce and particularly in the South and West additional railway mileage is needed to accommodate the movement of farm products. If in the wisdom of our Railroad Commissions an increase in freight rates is necessary to bring about an improvement in our transportation service, and an extension of our mileage, then an increase should be granted, and the farmer is willing to share such proportion of the increase as justly belongs to him, but we have some suggestions to make as to the manner in which this increase shall be levied.

Rates Follow Lines of Least Resistance.

The freight rates of the nation have been built up along lines of least resistance. The merchant, the manufacturer, the miner, the miller, the lumberman and the cattleman have had their traffic hauled thoroughly organized and in many instances they have pursued the railroad without mercy and with the power of organized tonnage they have hammered the life out of the rtes and with unrestrained greed they have eaten the vitals out of our transportation system and since we have had railroad commissions, these interests, with skill and cunning, are represented at every hearing in which their business is involved.

The farmer is seldom represented at rate hearings, as his organizations have never had the influence to employ counsel to develop his side of the case and, as a result, the products of the plow bear an unequal burden of the freight expense. A glance at the freight tariff abundantly proves this assertion. Cotton, the leading agricultural product of the South, already bears the highest freight rate of any necessary commodity. In commerce, and the rate on agricultural products as a whole is out of proportion with that of the products of the factory and the mine.

We offer no schedule of rates, but hope the commission will be able to give the railroad such an increase in rates as is necessary without levying a further toll upon the products of the plow. The instance seems to present an opportunity to the Railroad Commissions to equalize the rates as between agricultural and other classes of freight without disturbing the rates on staple farm products.

What is a Fair Rate?

We do not know what constitutes a basis for rate making and have never heard of anyone who did claim to know much about it, but if the prosperity of the farm is a factor to be considered and the railroad commission concludes that an increase in rates is necessary, we would prefer that it come to us through articles of consumption on their journey from the factory to the farm. We would, for example, prefer that the rate on hog disposing of a tract of 130 acres of land that lies in that county, the consideration being $1,200, cash.

The sale at the home of John Brainerd, deceased, here the 19th was well attended and things sold well.

Charles H. Compton of this place closed his school at Ryan Tuesday with a big crowd and an old time treat. Ellert Pitts, who resides on Stockton, just below here, is very low with pneumonia and grippe.

The tyne daughter of Harvey Masters, near here, who was badly burned by falling into a kettle of hot water, is improving.

Mr. Bentley and wife of Lawton, Carter county, came here last Sunday to visit Rev. Jeff Reynolds and family. Mrs. Reynolds is low with heart trouble. Joe and Lee Alley of Count's Cross Roads in Carter county, were here Monday disposing of a tract of 130 acres of land that lies in that county, the consideration being $1,200, cash.

Spouse Mase of this place recently had before him Fletcher Ingram and Richmond Rice, both of the Stockton neighborhood, on the charge of perverting stock to run at large. Each party was fined $5 and costs. The above suit is the outcome of an old grudge between the parties who are near neighbors and more trouble is looked for as they are still procuring warrants for each other's arrests on other charges.

TO LAUNCH SUBMARINE TENDER.

Seattle, Wash., January 22.—When the submarine tender Bushnell slides down the ways at the yards of her builders here tomorrow she will be christened by Miss Eulalie W. Bushnell of La Grange, Ill., a great-grandniece of David Bushnell, who experiments with underwater craft during Revolutionary days and foreshadowed the invention of the modern submarine.

David Bushnell was a freshman at Yale College when he perfected his submarine. That was in 1776. The "American Tortoise," as he called his craft, was constructed of iron plate and carried a supply of air sufficient to last the operator half an hour. It was screw propelled and was guided by a compass lighted from phosphorus.

The craft to be launched tomorrow is 380 feet long and is the largest naval vessel constructed on Puget Sound since the battleship Nebraska was built here in 1902. The Bushnell will be used as a tender for the Pacific submarine flotilla.

METHODIST QUARTERLY MEETING AT DOVER.

Quarterly meeting will be held at the Dover Methodist church next Saturday and Sunday, beginning Saturday night with a sermon by Presiding Elder J. Q. A. Vaughn of Covington.

HEALTH LEAGUE

Miss Casey Makes Fine Showing In Her Great Campaign In City and County.

The Mason County Public Health League held its semi annual meeting in the consolidated school auditorium at Maysville, January 13, 1915. The meeting was well filled with an interested audience.

Miss Jessie O. Yancey opened the meeting with a few remarks on the organization, its aims and accomplishments.

Miss Mary E. Sweeney, head of the Department of Home Economics of the State University, gave a very interesting address on "Home Economics," showing that poorly cooked and improper food impairs the health, whereas well prepared food readily provides energy, rebuilds broken down tissue and produces good health. As illustration she told of the football team of State University, though apparently healthy and scientific, the professor, realizing that something was wrong, used to have them fed properly for six months in preparation for opening of the next season, which was done and resulted in the same team winning every game that season.

Miss Abbie Roberts, supervising nurse of the American Red Cross Town and Country Nursing service, made a short address on the work of the Red Cross.

Dr. A. O. Taylor of Maysville, told of Senator Owens of Oklahoma introducing a bill into the National Congress providing for a national Department of Public Health with a cabinet officer at the head, during President Taft's administration.

It failed of passage and is now one of the most important matters before the public. The Senator did this of his own volition and was promptly aided and encouraged by the American Medical Association, through their committee on legislation, with Dr. A. C. Reed of Cincinnati, as chairman.

The public must come to the realization of this vital issue and recognize it as the most effective manner of dealing with the health problem.

Report given by public health nurse follows:

Number of patients carried over, January 1, 1914; new, 138; births, 5; total, 210.

Number patients discharged cured, 86; improved, 50; indrawn, 18; deceased, 18; total, 172; remaining, 38.

TUBERCULOSIS REPORT.

Patients carried over January 1, 1914; new patients, 10; total, 16.

Number discharged cured, 4; improved, 10; indrawn, 2; left town, 2; deceased, 7; total discharged, 25; remaining, 21.

When I say 4 cases of tuberculosis discharged cured, I mean those patients have been examined by the physician and pronounced all right. No symptoms remaining, but this does not mean there is no tendency. Every precaution must be kept up in order that there may not be a return. Plenty of fresh air, good food and proper exercise are necessary. Further, it does mean that these people are not a menace to the community, as they had been.

In the north the advance into East Prussia is reported as threatening the German lines of communication, and in Poland the trench warfare continues with small results for either side, but the Russians confidently dwell on what they call large German losses in efforts to hold present positions.

In the south the Russians declare that the Austrian resistance seems to have been broken down entirely, and that Transylvania lies open to them.

Reports of Romania's long-awaited entrance into the fight continue to circulate, one rumor today has it, however, that Romania will not immediately declare war, but that she will throw troops into Transylvania, which is Hungarian territory for the purpose of protecting Romanian nationals.

Meanwhile German official utterances continue optimistic.

Romania and Italy Likely To Enter War.

Bucharest, January 21.—The probability of a new Austrian invasion of Serbia is seriously occupying political circles, where it is felt that the danger encircling Romania is increasing, and that Romania will not be able to remain neutral. It is not believed here that Italy either will be able to remain neutral.

GROWERS CUT TOBACCO TOO SOON.

A farmer who has raised tobacco for years said to us this week: "The reason so much tobacco brings a price far below what the owners expected to get is that the crop has been out 20 days or more before it is ripe. Pull a green up plant and let it ripen, and it is bitter. Tobacco is like the apple and buyers know it."—Carlisle Mercury.

The production of lead in the United States in 1914 exceeded that of any preceding year by more than 10,000 tons.

VIGOROUS FIGHT

To Capture Kentucky Legislature Will Be Made By the Drys.

Washington.—Notice was served by the Anti-Saloon League of America that the liquor issue will be made a big factor in the Kentucky state campaign this year, and that it will wage a vigorous fight to capture the state Legislature with a view to the submission of state wide prohibition.

An announcement from the Anti-Saloon League national headquarters says,

"In Kentucky next January resolution will be submitted to the Legislature looking to an amendment to the constitution under which the state would become prohibition territory. At present 106 of the 120 counties of the state are dry. A Governor and other state officials, as well as members of the state Legislature, will be chosen in Kentucky next November, and those so chosen will have to solve the prohibition question as far as the submission of an amendment to the people is concerned."

Representative R. P. Hobson, author of the prohibition resolution recently defeated in Congress, said that he expects to go to Kentucky and take an active part in trying to win the state for prohibition.

Roumania and Italy Ready To Pounce In To Aid Allies.

London, January 21.—Russia's three fold assault on the Germanic allies has, in the opinion of British observers of the war, resumed its steamer-like characteristics alike in the north, the center and the south.

In the north the advance into East Prussia is reported as threatening the German lines of communication, and in Poland the trench warfare continues with small results for either side, but the Russians confidently dwell on what they call large German losses in efforts to hold present positions.
